

Bob Bridges, Independent Trustee of the Year

Bob Bridges, a senior client director with Capital Cranfield Trustees, has been awarded Independent Trustee of the Year by readers of Engaged Investor. 2009 is the inaugural year for this unsolicited award whereby individuals are proposed for the title and are then voted upon.

Naturally Bob Bridges—who holds a number of trustee board Chairmanships and senior independent trustee appointments—was pleased to receive this award. However, he commented that “whilst I did not seek or expect this award, recognition like this is of course a pleasant experience. This is particularly so since it was voted on by people closely associated with the pension funds I am involved with”

ENGAGED INVESTOR
TRUSTEE AWARDS recognising commitment to pensioners 2009
WINNER
Independent Trustee of the Year

For further information, please contact Lora Benson, Press Officer, Capital Cranfield Trustees—
lorabenson@walshbenson.co.uk or tel: 07801 521034

Capital Cranfield Trustees has offices in London, Nottingham and Edinburgh and supports more than 200 active pension fund clients, managed by its 30 client directors. Capital Cranfield’s team in Nottingham is responsible for over 100 pension funds in the course of wind-up or PPT assessment.

To achieve the highest professional and ethical standards, Capital Cranfield maintains its total independence by ensuring that none of its group companies offers services other than trusteeship. For more information on Capital Cranfield Trustees visit www.cctl.co.uk

